SAINT RAYMOND'S (fling)

© BB

The musical score for "SAINT RAYMOND'S (fling)" is written in G major (two sharps) and 2/4 time. It features four staves of music, each with a treble clef. Chords labeled above the notes include D, G, A, Bm, D, Bm, A7, D, D, Bm, G, A, Em, D, G, A, D, Bm, A, D, D, G, A7, D, and D. The score begins with a dynamic instruction "<<" on the left side.

Saint Raymond's is a huge cemetery in the Bronx that serves as the final resting place for people like Michael Coleman, James Morrison, Johnny Cronin, Andy McGann, and I don't know how many other musicians. Of course there are sessions every night but folks think it's just the sound of the wind. . .

SANDY CONNOLLY'S (jig)

© BB

The musical score is for a jig in 6/8 time, G major. It features four staves of music, each with a treble clef and a key signature of one sharp. Chords are labeled above each staff: D, G, D, Bm, A, G, A; D, Em, D, G, D, A, D; D, G, Em, D, G, D, A; and D, G, Em, D, G, Bm, A, D. The score includes a repeat sign and a double bar line with a '2' indicating a return to the beginning.

In memory of Séamus Connolly's late wife Chryssandra (RIP after losing a long battle with cancer in March 2011).

SARA'S PORCH (jig)

<<

This tune is a tribute to Sara Piazza, whose front porch in Edgartown on Martha's Vineyard is always a welcoming summer location for traditional musicians.

SARAH'S BLISS (slip jig)

© BB

The musical score for "Sarah's Bliss" is presented in four staves, each starting with a treble clef and two sharps (A major). The time signature is 9/8. Chords are labeled above each staff:

- Staff 1: A, G, A, A, G, A
- Staff 2: A, G, A, G, Em, A
- Staff 3: A, G, A, A, Em
- Staff 4: A, Bm, A, G, Em, A

A double bar line with repeat dots is positioned between the third and fourth staves.

A while back our friend Sarah Murphy opened an Irish gift shop called "Celtic Bliss". She asked if we would play for the grand opening, which we were happy to do. I wrote this tune to commemorate the big day!

SCRAMBLED EGGS (jig)

The musical score for "Scrambled Eggs" is written in G major (two sharps) and 6/8 time. It features four staves of music. Chords labeled above the notes include A, A7, D, A, Bm, A, E, D, E, A, D, A, E, A, A, F#m, A, Bm, A, D, A, A7, D, E, A, E, A. The score begins with a treble clef, two sharps, and a 6/8 time signature. The first staff starts with a single note followed by a series of eighth-note patterns. The second staff continues with similar eighth-note patterns. The third staff introduces a bass clef and includes a double bar line with repeat dots. The fourth staff concludes the piece. The entire score is set against a white background with black musical notation.

Scrambled eggs were at one time our grand-daughter Rosie's favorite cuisine. Sometimes if she was really hungry the refinements of fork and/or spoon would be dispensed with, and fingers would be put to good use to get the yummy golden stuff into the mouth (or close thereto) in the quickest way possible!

The SEAHORSE HORNPIPE

Tune 2 of the South Coast Hornpipe Set

© B.Black 10/20

<<

This tune, "The Llama's Pajamas" [12341], and "The Fairhaven" [12343], are dedicated to Colin Everett and the other South Coast musicians who did their best to keep the music alive during the pandemic. This title is taken from the local name for Dunseith Park in lovely Mattapoisett, where Colin & co. do an outdoor session in the warmer months. There's a big seahorse at the park entrance which has been there for many years - I think it used to belong to a gift shop which is now long gone - but the locals love it and it has become a kind of town mascot. Good call! Can't have too many 20-foot seahorses!

SEAN at the WHEEL (reel)

The musical score consists of four staves of music. The first three staves are standard staff notation with note heads and stems. The fourth staff begins with '<<' and ends with a repeat sign and a double bar line, indicating a return to the beginning of the section.

Below each staff, the lyrics correspond to the chords:

- Staff 1: Dm, C, Dm, Dm, Am, Dm, C
- Staff 2: Dm, C, Dm, Dm, Am, C7, Dm
- Staff 3: Dm, Dm7, Dm, C, Dm7, Dm, Dm, Am
- Staff 4: Dm, Dm7, Dm, C, Dm, Am, C7, Dm

Anyone who has tried to steer a van down an interstate and play tunes on a fiddle at the same time will appreciate Seán Reynolds' efforts not to get us all killed. (This tune has been brilliantly recorded by fine fiddler and Solas member Winnie Horan - thanks, Win!)

This tune has existed for many years as "Seventh City" which I always thought was a nickname for Dublin (although I couldn't figure out why). Well, there's a good reason: it turns out the phrase is "Second City", as in "Second City of the British Empire" (London of course being Number One). Even though Ireland has not been part of the Empire for many years, I'm sure it's comforting to Dubliners to know that their home town was once thought of so highly by their neighbors next door (so to speak).

The SHANNON PILOT (reel)

© BB

The musical score consists of four staves of music in 4/4 time. The chords used are Am, G, Em, Am, Em7, D, G, and Am. The first staff starts with Am, followed by a measure of G, Em, Am, D, and G. The second staff starts with Am, followed by a measure of G, Em, Am, Em7, Am, G, and Am. The third staff starts with Am, followed by a measure of G, Em, Am, D, Em, and Am. The fourth staff starts with Am, followed by a measure of G, Em, Am, D, G, and Am. A repeat sign with a '3' underneath it is located on the third staff.

When we were travelling in West Clare some years ago, I had the opportunity of taking a ride out on the Shannon River with one of the river pilots who was going out to board a ship. It was quite a treat for a ship enthusiast like me to be able to spend an hour or so on the "broad majestic Shannon"!

The musical score for "The Six Foot Sandwich" is presented in G major and 6/8 time. It features four staves of music, each with a treble clef and a key signature of one sharp (F#). The first staff begins with a D note. The second staff begins with a D note. The third staff begins with a Bm note. The fourth staff begins with a Bm note. Chords labeled above the notes include D, D, G, D, Em, A7, D, G, A, Bm, and A.

The first time I ever encountered one of those notorious six-foot sandwiches was at a session at box player Loretta Egan's apartment in Manhattan many years ago. I can affirm that there wasn't any kind of known cheese, cold cut, or salad that wasn't somewhere in that sandwich. (The music was pretty good too!) I last saw Loretta when she was visiting the Cape a few years back and stopped in to play at our session. It was great to hear her again!

SIX IN THE MORNING (jig)

© BB

The musical score consists of four staves of music in G major and 6/8 time. The chords are indicated above each staff. The first staff starts with G, followed by Am, Em, G, Em, D, G, and Am. The second staff continues with G, Am, G, Em, Am, Em, D, and G. The third staff begins with G, Am, Em, G, C, G, Am, and D. The fourth staff concludes with G, Am, Em, G, C, G, D, and G. The score ends with a double bar line and repeat dots.

Certainly not my favorite time of day, but there are people who actually LIKE IT!!!. They're usually NOT musicians but strange people like fishermen, golfers, joggers, and other assorted sociopaths that it's always best to avoid even though they might pretend to be normal . . .

The SLEEPY REEL

© BB

The musical score consists of four staves of music. The first three staves are in common time (4/4), while the fourth staff begins with a double bar line and a repeat sign, indicating a return to common time (4/4). The lyrics are written below each staff, corresponding to the chords: Am, C, Am, Am7, C, Am, Em, G, G, Am, C, Am, Am7, Am, D, Am, G, Am, Am, G, Em, Am, Em, G, Am, Am, D, Am, G, Am, Am, G, Em, Am, Am, D, Am, G, Am. The score includes a copyright notice for BB at the top right.

SNOW on the ROOF (reel)

It happens that Cape Cod can go for years without more than six or seven inches of snow during the winter (which sometimes lasts until mid-April). Other years we'll get blasted with two big storms a week. Problem is that you can never tell which kind of winter it's going to be - the "Farmer's Almanac", Punxsutawney Phil the groundhog, and lately Brigitte the European Model are usually guessing the same as the rest of us!

Here's the story: I needed a name for a tune and while I was racking my brain (never a pretty sight) I happened to see a copy of the kids' edition of "National Geographic". The SNOWY ROAD to MICK'S (slide)

The musical score is composed of four staves of music in 12/8 time, key of D major. The chords are indicated above each staff. The first staff starts with D, followed by F#m7, A7, and D. The second staff starts with D, followed by F#m7, G, A7, and D. The third staff starts with Em, followed by D, D, G, D, and A. The fourth staff starts with Em, followed by D, Em, A, and D. To commemorate a never-to-be-fully-explained trip to Mick Cronin's farm in the wilds of Sliabh Luachra. Ostensible purpose: to deliver a bag of Latino vegetables and a carton of assorted fermented spirits being sent by Mick's brother Johnny in Brooklyn. Additional details are available (to adults only) upon request. "From a Kerryman in New York to his brother," I told the agriculture inspector at the airport when I arrived in Ireland. "Right so!" says he, and he waved me through without even checking the packages. (Airport security wasn't as big an issue in those innocent days . . .) We enjoyed the beverages but I don't know what Mick did with the veggies!

After many years of consideration by whoever is in charge of these matters, Capuchin Father Solanus Casey OFM (1870-1957) was beatified in November 2017. Eventually - nothing moves quickly in Rome - Solanus is going to be the first American-Irish saint. Deservedly so: his life and works are models of patience and piety as well as immense love for his Lord, for the Blessed Mother, and for his fellow man. Solanus' biography mentions the fact that he was also a fiddler, but evidently his musical efforts were not always appreciated by his fellow monks! Judging by the brief sound clip on his website, you can kind of understand why . . . He's my "go-to guy" when help is needed. I'm sure he wouldn't mind being yours too. (www.solanuscasey.org)

A SON of the PRAIRIE (reel)

The musical score is in 4/4 time and key of A major (three sharps). The score is divided into four staves, each ending with a double bar line and repeat dots. The ride along the south bank of the Shannon from Limerick west to Tarbert is a lovely one. We did it on a fine sunny day a number of years ago and were very impressed. There wasn't too much traffic on the road either, which is always nice when you're travelling in an area where you might want to stop and take a few pictures (we did) . By the way: I added "Bank" to the title after I discovered an older tune named "South of the Shannon".

A tip of the hat to fiddler Laura Ridarelli and her talented colleagues! Good music and fine musicians playing it were to be found in abundance on the "South Shore" (= the sixty miles or so between Boston and Cape Cod) in the pre-pandemic days - let's hope everything has returned to normal (or close to it).

I don't recall the exact circumstances under which this tune was composed, but I presume it had something to do with the departure of a particularly harsh winter and the arrival of the forsythia, crocuses (or croci), the peepers in the marshy places, and the first sighting here on Cape Cod of cars with out-of-state license plates and bumper stickers proclaiming loyalty to non-New England sports teams. Of course there's no accounting for visitors' tastes but we try to make them (and their money) as welcome as possible. (Sometimes it's not easy.)

Boston's Irish Fair - originally held at Stonehill College in Easton, now at the Irish Cultural Center in Canton - used to draw huge crowds every June. The Chieftains, Solas, De Danann, Cherish the Ladies, and other first-class traditional acts were once featured (and appreciated) over the thirty-plus years of the Fair's existence. But it's been scaled back considerably in recent years - plenty of "Dropkick Murphy" types, but not much trad music any more. Even the legendary "ceili tent" that provided 20+ hours of set dancing on a weekend is history: the ceili has been moved inside and runs one day for a few hours. You hear the word "demographics" a lot. Oh well . . . great days while they lasted!

The Sunnyside neighborhood of Queens in New York City has always attracted many young people needing a place to live relatively inexpensively. It's a short commute by subway to mid-town and has a lot of quiet streets and well-kept apartments that make living there a very pleasant experience. In my days as a New Yorker, Sunnyside had a sizeable Irish population, I would guess second only to the Bronx in that respect. Of course things have changed a lot over the years, but I'm sure there are still plenty of Irish accents to be heard in Sunnyside even today.

The SUNSET PARK (jig)

Sunset Park is a neighborhood in Brooklyn not far from Prospect Park, which is basically the "center" or Brooklyn. Sunset Park was always of mixed ethnicity when I was growing up a few miles away, and I doubt much has changed (except the house prices, not to be believed by an old Brooklyn guy like me!) Green-wood Cemetery, last resting place for more than one Irish patriot, is located to Sunset Park's northeast - a beautiful tract of quiet green in the middle of a busy city.

The SWEET SKIES of LOUTH (jig)

The musical score is in G major (two sharps) and 6/8 time. It features five staves of music, each starting with a treble clef. The first four staves begin with a D note, while the fifth staff begins with a G note. The music is divided into measures by vertical bar lines. Above each staff, the corresponding chords are written: D, F#m, Bm, D, A, G, A for the first staff; D, F#m, Bm, Em, A, D for the second; D, G, D, Bm, D, Bm, Em, D for the third; D, G, D, Bm, D, Bm, A, D for the fourth; and G, D, F#m, Bm, Em, A, G, A for the fifth. The music concludes with a repeat sign and two endings.

Louth is the county that adjoins County Dublin to the north. It seems to be a quiet county whose existence is often overlooked - for example, I couldn't locate any tunes that had "Louth" in the title. Possibly that's due to the fact that the word "Louth" is not particularly pleasant-sounding; the Gaelic version is "Lú", which sounds a lot nicer (and is easier to rhyme in both languages!)
